Open Letter to Fine Art Buyers, Lenders & Brokers

Amedeo Modigliani's Sitting Nude with Crossed Hands, (c.) 1917

Senior members of the Napa Valley Art Institut have recently returned from Prague/Paris. In Prague we met with owners of Amedeo Modigliani's "Sitting Nude with Crossed Hands", (c.) 1917. On March 18 we left Prague for Paris by private jet w/the Painting, founder of InsightART, Jiri Lauterkranc and Dr. Otto M Urban curator at DOX Centre for Contemporary Art. That afternoon we met with the Director and senior staff of Institut Restellini and dropped off the Painting. This link to a brief video, Institut Restellini Paris - Unveiling Modigliani's Sitting Nude w/Crossed Hands. Additional video/pictures of the meeting are attached. Napa Valley Art Institut is the exclusive representative of the Painting. The Brokerage Agreement as are several others, are attached.

Professor Urban completed a 90-day evaluation of the Painting late last year and was there to present his Report and findings. This Report is included in the Modigliani Folder, a link provided after DDNDA is signed. Jiri prepared a video presentation of InsightART's 2022 Forensic analysis. InsightART uses particle physics {dual robotic} technology developed by CERN. The robots, nicknamed RToo use material sensitive X-ray micro-radiography in high resolution {MRXR}. NASA uses a version of this robotic technology in space. CERN developed the Large Hadron Collider, the world's largest, most powerful particle accelerator. Jiri and Otto were also in attendance to answer questions from Institut staff for the owners, Robert/Saso, whose English is not perfect.

As fate would have it, I was invited back the next day to meet one on one with Marc Restellini. I got to know his assistant {Alba Berti} after several phone calls and sending her a Cover Letter to Mr. Restellini and the Modigliani authentication and forensic documents. As the financially responsible party, Alba asked me to return to discuss the engagement and set expectations; she also knew I was really hoping to meet Marc. Attached is a copy of Receipt of Painting and Invoice.

During our meeting, I was able to professionally spar with Mr. Restellini over several files containing new research that I discovered while working on an Exposé and Graphic Novel of the Subject of the Painting, KIKI, "Queen of Montparnasse", {aka Alice Prin}. A truly fascinating part of the research started when I stumbled on a Painting by Richard Nevinson with a familiar red pillow and nude figure that could only be Alice Prin. This led to dozens of hours of research and ordering numerous publications including a first edition {English} version of Kiki's Memoirs, 1929. The result was finding a treasure trove of extraordinary information/imagery regarding Modigliani and Nevinson that has been lost to history for 109 years. The two shared a studio in Montparnasse which coincidentally is the title of Nevison's painting.

This research is contained in the attached Addendum B to our Authentication & Analysis Report. If the reader is interested the Modi, we recommend reviewing this file. It also contains a Section taken from the Modigliani Initiative titled "Cracking the Code". NVAI has added to their research in key areas. Addendum A is also attached, a Highlight Reel of Kiki in Fine Art, Kiki in Rare Photography and Kiki the Artist. I also discovered two cataloged paintings {Nudes} attributed to Alice Prin, one in Ceroni.

The original Cover Letter to Mr. Restellini is also attached. Included in this file is his original Letter to ownership in 2012. A Notation has been added in the right margin to fill in the evolution of the Painting between the time at Wildenstein and now at Restellini. Included in this file is a Notarized Affidavit tied to the Paintings early Provenance. Kiki had a two month stay at Wildenstein Institute in 2012 when Mr. Restellini was the curator. Kiki is now back 14 years later, another fortunate twist of fate. In 2012 the owners only had a few family letters/court papers to document the Painting. After Wildenstein's evaluation, ownership was told that much more documentation would be needed to fully authenticate the work and possible entry into Catalogue Raisonnee. Funny enough, the very Catalogue Raisonnee that was scheduled for release in 2014, is now just published. When the owner's specialist traveled to pick up the Painting, the head of the evaluation committee told her they thought the Painting was authentic but reinforced the documentation deficit. Documentation that took four years to develop is now available.

Entry into Catalogue Raisonnee was a topic of conversation during the meeting with Mr. Restellini. He told me he does have plans to publish at least one more Catalogue. I suggested to Ms. Berti {privately} that a seventh volume be considered if our Painting is authenticated. Should I say when our Painting is authenticated. This volume could be devoted solely to the Painting and legacy of Alice Prin, "The Immortal yet Forgotten Kiki de Montparnasse"

Recent Representation Signed - Jackson Pollack - Picasso, Chagall, Kandinsky, Matisse, Monet, etc.

Based on over four years of work on the Modigliani and Bernard, the principals of Napa Valley Art Institut has had the good fortune of meeting several individuals in fine art circles in the US, Prague, Paris, England, Palm Beach, Dubai and Monaco. Although we are committed to the sale of the Modigliani at present NVAI will soon offer 27 additional paintings displayed in our new Virtual Gallery application. The two recently signed Brokerage Agreements are attached.

The first is limited exclusive representation of a late, {1950} heavy-drip Jackson Pollack. The Painting is appraised at $170m, we believe a bit high, but the owner in England is only looking for a $40-$50m loan and will consider a sale. The second Agreement with Addendum includes representation of 27 paintings through a Gallery in Prague. We met with the owner and his intermediary on our recent trip after we had already signed the Agreement. The Gallery owner, part of a prominent art family in Czech, represents numerous private collectors in Europe/UAE exclusively. The Spreadsheet provides details of each Painting and viewing location. A follow-on email will include hi-res images of each painting. A link to our Virtual Gallery will be sent once the DDNDA is signed.

The Napa Valley Art Institut now manages a portfolio that includes over 30 works of art, worth over a billion dollars. Including three Modigliani's, nine Picasso's, seven Chagall's, two Kandinsky's, a Matisse, a Monet, Frida Kahlo, Da Vinci and RAPHAEL. One of the Chagall's has an under-painting that was discovered when the forensic evaluation was performed at InsightART. The tour of their laboratory was a highlight of our trip to Prague. Link to video: Radiographic X-ray Scan Reveals Hidden Masterpiece - Uncovering an Under-painting in Marc Chagall's Female Nude with Flowers & Animals

I was told by the Gallery owner that the Paintings listed on the Spreadsheet are priced to sell. All legitimate offers will be considered/countered. Documentation, provenance, literature, and exhibition for all works, in our opinion, is as good as it gets. Which makes sense being that these works are represented by a prominent Gallery. The Gallery owner and owner of the Pollack have asked that our Document Distribution & Non-Disclosure Agreement be signed when sharing authentication materials and appraisals.

The Extraordinary Life & Times of the Immortal yet Forgotten KIKI, "Queen of Montparnasse" An Exposé & Graphic Novel

This link, Exposé opens a Dropbox Folder containing an Introduction & copyrighted Publication, {228 pages}. Limited distribution will soon begin. We suggested to Alba at Institut Restellini, the Exposé could provide material to support a potential seventh volume of the 2026 Catalogue Raisonné. The Exposé, once the Painting is sold, will be an important resource {for presentation} for resale or if it were to show up in an auction. On a personal note, our recent trip to Paris included four days spent in Montparnasse, bringing color and life to the stories in the Exposé. Walking the same streets, visiting the clubs, restaurants, and cabarets where Kiki sat, performed and hung out with many of the greatest artists of our time forever etched in memory.

Introduction

Roaring 20's in Paris—a dazzling epicenter of art, creativity, and rebellion. Amidst the extravagant cabarets, smoky studios, and streets alive with revolution, one name stood above all—Kiki, "Queen of Montparnasse" Kiki embodied the Montparnasse Era, reaching iconic status. Kiki was a force of nature, credited for being the "essential interlocutor" for two generations of French Masters.

From the tender age of 16, Alice Prin became the inspiration and favorite muse/nude model for many of the greatest artists of all time, Muse of a Thousand Faces. Her titles, Kiki de Montparnasse and KIKI, "Queen of Montparnasse" were bestowed on her after meeting and falling in love with Man Ray in 1922. Kiki was Modigliani's muse, the model behind Fujita's iconic nude portraits, and the subject of Le Violon d'Ingres, Man Ray's world-famous photograph. The most expensive photo ever sold, an astonishing $12.4 million at Christie's in 2022, (above left). Her likeness and namesake were the inspiration behind a successful line of French lingerie, Kiki de Montparnasse - Luxury Lingerie & Related Goods - The Brand

But her story goes far beyond the canvas or camera lens—Kiki was much more than an artist muse/model, she had a command over the avant-garde world in ways few ever could. She was a singer, dancer, cabaret performer, film actress, memoirist, and artist in her own right, compared to Matisse. In 1928 Ernest Hemingway, captivated by her charisma, wrote the forward to Kiki's Memoirs one of two in his lifetime, Memoirs II. Hemingway wrote "Kiki dominated the Era of Montparnasse more than Queen Victoria ever dominated the Victorian Era". The two also shared a brief affair. Kiki maintains a cultish-like following around the world with over a million super-fans, but her life and legacy have largely been erased from history...

Why you cannot miss this....

Kiki story isn't just about art... it's about resilience, passion, and living life unapologetically. Despite being an inspiration for the artist styles for some of the greatest painters of all time, Kiki's name was almost eliminated from history. No children, no living relatives to carry on her legacy. This Expose and Graphic Novel brings her back to life, ensuring her story is told the way it so richly deserves.

Mark Braude, author of the NYT bestselling 2022 "Kiki Man Ray", calls her the "Forgotten Star" of the 20th century. Now, with over 1,000,000 super-fans around the world, the time is right for Kiki's reemergence and rediscovery.

Take the first step....

"The Extraordinary Life & Times of Kiki, "Queen of Montparnasse" is more than an Expose—it's your ticket to an astonishing time and place. From artists to history buffs, anyone with a love for culture, creativity, and courage will be mesmerized by Kik's life story. We hope you enjoy your journey into the life of one of the most captivating women in history.

Dear Richard,

A pleasure meeting you at Institut Restellini in Paris.

Thank you very much for sharing such interesting and detailed information about your Final Draft Exposé and Graphic Novel.

It is impressive to see how much thought, research, and planning has gone into the project. I truly appreciate the extraordinary amount of time you have dedicated to studying Kiki's life, gathering the materials, assembling the files, and preparing the publication. The scale of the work — both in terms of research and production — is remarkable, and it clearly reflects a deep personal commitment to preserving and presenting Kiki's story.

I wish you, your literary agent, and everyone involved great success with the launch and with all the next steps. I look forward to hearing more and receiving further updates.

Best regards,

Professor Otto M. Urban

Executive Director - Napa Valley Art Institut

For the past nine years Richard has overseen the development of PowerPlant Park. His company has raised over $14mm thru a combination of principals, their family and the sale of 18 Greenhouse Buildings to investors. Local real estate investors, Ebrahim and Ahmad Nana of Nana Wall fame have invested over $5M in the project over 4 years including the purchase of 7 greenhouses. The Nana's also sold the Phase I land to PowerPlant Park. These funds have supported the completion of building plan sets, (construction level drawings), Phase I building permit, state licenses, environmental studies, municipal permits, regulatory compliance and numerous submissions to the City's planning department, DRB, and state agencies.

Richard is also the visionary behind Local Heroes and Hands 4 Hope 4 all Humanity, (his foundation). He is responsible for guiding the design and development of a next generation global platform mirroring the debit and credit networks controlled by Visa and MasterCard. The platform can manage transactions in unique ways and accommodate a variety of economic and humanitarian models. Three programs have been piloted in US, Canada and Mexico, where Local Heroes spent 4 years working with many senior government ministries and officials, he and his wife meeting with President Vicente & Martha Fox.

With the Parks' emphasis on support of the local and surrounding communities, a significant part of these funds spent on local-area consultants, engineers, contractors, designers and architects.

Richard has assembled a world-class management team with over 150 years of combined cannabis experience including master growers, scientists, and genetics experts to ensure that operations and plant integrity is maintained at the highest level. In 2014-15 Richard and his team successfully conducted legal medical operations of an indoor farm in Marin County with over 700 plant-sites. From 2022 to the present, PowerPlant Park has sold 24 Tier 2 Mixed Light Buildings for over $12,000,000.
